BOLSHEVIKI PUT TO FLIGHT

COSSACKS RENEW EFFORTS TO OVERTHROW LENIN, GAIN-ING GROUND.

(By the Associated Press)

Amsterdam, Aug. 16.—Don Cossacks have cleared the left bank of the river Don of their opponents, the Bolsheviks, and are marching victoriously on Searagin, from which they are only two days march distance, says an official statement from Don Cossack staff and received here from Kiev.

The Don Cossacks have persistently refused to recognize the Brest-Litovsk treaty and have been implacable in their hostility to both Germans and Bolsheviks. It is suggested by officials here that the Cossacks conduct may give support to the various Russian factions seeking the re-establishment of the eastern front.

ROBERTSON LEADS BY TWO TO ONE

Oklahoma City, Aug. 16.—Final tabulation of the vote in the recent primary election is still held up on account of the delay in receiving official returns from Tulsa and Oklahoma counties, where a recount has been in progress, and from Kingfisher county. These returns, however, are expected to be in today or tomorrow.

Official tabulation of the returns from the seventy-four counties which are now in and semi-official returns from the other three, making complete returns from the state, show that Robertson won over Murray by better than 2 to 1, which was the pre-election prediction of his campaign managers.

These returns, official from seventy-four and semi-official from three counties, give Robertson 48,568; Murray, 24,283, and Alexander, 22,670.

Whitehurst's plurality over Wilson for president of the state board of agriculture will be approximately 800, while Matthews' plurality over Mrs. Bassett for commissioner of charities and corrections will go above 1,000.

FORMER MEXICAN OFFICIAL IN REDUCED CIRCUMSTANCES

(By the Associated Press)

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 16.—Once the recipient of banquets and military honors when he visited the border, Enrique Creel, former Mexican Ambassador to the United States, governor of Chihuahua and Minister of Foreign Relations, now lives here and may be seen riding home in an automobile omnibus beside a Mexican laborer from the smelters.

When the revolutions forced the federal officials and their families to flee from Mexico, Senor Creel came here with his father-in-law, General Luis Terrazas. He has lived in California the greater part of the time but returns to El Paso frequently.

While governor of Chihuahua Senor Creel was always a friend of the Americans from the border and gave elaborate banquets and entertainments for them when delegations visited Chihuahua City, the state capital. In return he was always banqueted when he visited El Paso and when he accompanied President Diaz here for the meeting with President Taft he was given a military escort wherever he went in El Paso. He was the head of one of the largest banks in Mexico City at one time.

ARMY TRAINING CAMPS ARE TO BE ENLARGED.

Washington, August 16.—Plans for enlargement of several of the big training camps were announced tonight by the army general staff. Camp Hancock, Ga., designated as a center for the training of machine gunners, will be enlarged to accommodate between 56,000 and 60,000 men. An officers' training school, house in tents there now, will be given barracks and quarters and the total cost of new work will be about $2,000,000.

The capacity of Camp Grant, Ill., which has been created an infantry replacement cantonment, will be increased from 42,000 to 60,000 men. Field artillery firing centers are to be located at West Point, Ky., Camp Jackson, S. C., and Fayetteville, N. C., with six brigades of artillery located at each of them except Jackson, which will have four.

Officers' training schools with tent accommodations at Camps Lee, Va., Gordon, Ga., and Pike, Ark., are to be given permanent housing at a cost of $2,000,000 each.

FUNERAL OF DR. M. W.

LEGION THURSDAY AFTERNOON
The funeral services for Dr. M. W. Ligon were conducted at the family residence Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. W. M. Crutchfield. A large number of the many friends of deceased attended to pay their last tribute to the memory of the departed and a large concourse followed the body to its last resting place in Rose-dale cemetery.

Farther to the north British patrols pushed eastward on a three mile front between Beaucourt-sur-Ancre and Puisseux-aumont.

SUBMARINE GETS BRAZILIAN SHIP

(By the Associated Press)

New York, August 16.—The Brazilian motor ship Madrugada, 163 tons gross, has been sunk by a German submarine off the American coast, according to advices in insurance circles here. The crew was picked up by another vessel and will be landed at an Atlantic port.

OKLAHOMA ODD FELLOWS ELECT GRAND OFFICERS

Guthrie, Ok., Aug. 16.—The committee of elections of the grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows for the State of Oklahoma, consisting of W. G. Gill of Ponca City, W. H. Chandler of Guthrie and W. Hines of Stillwater, met at the office of Grand Secretary G. W. Bruce in this city and canvassed the returns for the election of grand officers held by the subordinate lodges of the state during the week of June.

They report the following results: Grand master, M. B. Cope, El Reno; deputy grand master, E. B. Cline, Tulsa; grand secretary, G. W. Bruce, Guthrie; grand representative, Logan Hawkins, Tonkawa; grand trustee, George Morgan, Crescent; member home board, A. T. Whitworth, Carmen.

There are 517 lodges in Oklahoma, with a membership of 34,641. The only contest of importance was over the office of grand warden, there being seven candidates for this position. None of the candidates received a majority vote as required by the laws of the order, and the committee declared there had been no election for this position.

GERMANS CRY AGAINST ALLIED BOMBING OPERATIONS.

(By the Associated Press)

London, August 16.—One of the most significant features of the aerial bombing offensive of the British is the loud response it has elicited from the German people, say British newspapers.

The bombing of England brought no complaint, but only renewed resolution from the British people; yet Germany, suffering from the first preliminary pangs of the British attacks, at once began to cry out against it, and protest upon protest is pouring into the German authorities from the populace of the different areas attacked.

This means that the British bombing offensive is effective, that far-reaching destruction has been caused to railway junctions and factories, and that the German claim that British raids have accomplished nothing serious have been untrue.

Details of the damage caused by the British raids can easily be suppressed by the German censorship, but the voice of the German people cannot permanently be stifled, and it is asserted there is abundant photographic and captured documentary evidence that their fears are based upon real execution done.

GERMAN LOSSES SIX MILLION

FRENCH PAPERS PUBLISH ESTI-MATE FOR WAR TO END OF JULY.

(By the Associated Press)

Paris, August 16.—Total German losses from the war's beginning to the end of July, 1918, are understood to be 6,000,000 men according to morning newspapers. These figures include 1,400 men killed up to the beginning of the German offensive last March. From March 27 to June 17 the Germans are said to have lost 120,000 in killed alone.

STEEL SHIP BUILT IN THIRTY DAYS SETS NEW RECORD.

Detroit, Mich., August 16.—A record ship construction is claimed by the Great Lakes Engineering Works in delivering today to the emergency fleet corporation, complete in every detail, the 3,500 ton steel freighter Crawl Keys, thirty working days after its keel was laid in the yards at Ecorse, Mich.

ALLIES CLOSE IN ON ROYE

WILL BE TAKEN SOON, UNLESS GERMANS CAN RELIEVE PRESSURE.

(By the Associated Press)

Allied pressure has been effectively renewed against the German lines in Roze region, on Picardy battle front. The enemy is clinging determinedly to Roze but both French and British are pushing closer. Roze is fast becoming the virtual apex of the salient which will soon invite a crushing allied stroke if Franco-British pressure can be maintained. The enemy apparently has completed the withdrawal movement in Hebuterne sector north of Albert. The enemy still holds Albert but the British are in the western out skirts. Between the Oise and Marais the French continue steady pressure and have gained additional high ground west of the Oise and northwest of Ribecourt.

While the nation as a whole never dreamed of war with Germany a few years ago, a few saw enough beneath the surface to realize that it must come. Dr. A. P. Bourland, who delivered a series of lectures at the normal in July, related an instance of this kind. When he was in a university at Leipzig ten years ago he occasionally met a Jewish fur dealer who made the trip from St. Louis once or twice a year to the fur market at Leipzig. Several times he remarked to Mr. Bourland that "Sooner or later we are going to have to whip this bunch and when the time comes I expect to be the first to volunteer for I want to help take the strut out of these devils."

The German papers now admit that the Kaiser had greatly underestimated the fighting qualities of the Americans and are not at all optimistic over the outlook as the American forces increase at the rate of 10,000 per day. The new program of putting 4,000,000 men in the fighting lines by the opening of next year's campaign will give the Hun more concern than anything that has yet happened for such an overwhelming force led by Pershing and officers of his kind will certainly give the Germans more to do than they ever dreamed of. If the allied armies could make the record they have this year with inferior numbers there is no doubt about things happening in a hurry next year when the Americans arrive in full force. The Huns will soon find that they never knew what fighting was when the entire allied line begins to move forward.

ADA MAN HAS VISION
CONCERNING THE WAR

In a vision I saw the Germans loading a large gun which they had pointing to the west. I saw them put a large shell into the gun and behind the shell was a large powder bed which they filled with powder. When they closed this gun they ordered us to get back. We went back south about thirty yards and some one gave the command: "Ready" and I saw a large black smoke rise over the gun and twist and mingle for a long time. It was so black that I could not see the gun for sometime, but finally it began to give way and then very quickly it vanished, yet no explosion was heard. I walked back to the gun where I stood before and they opened it and the large shell was still in the gun but it went to rolling and fell out at the muzzle of the gun and yet no explosion came. As I stood and beheld the great empty gun a voice said unto me: "This is intended for Berlin." This waked me and it was about 5 o'clock in the morning. I rose and dressed myself and as I sat in my chair I again fell into a deep sleep and the same vision came to me again and the voice spoke to me as it did at first and said: "This is intended for Berlin and this the second vision," and again I woke very suddenly.

I have studied the vision thoroughly and as I interpret it the gun is the great preparation that the Germans had made to take the world and the shell that I saw is the gun that rolled out and fell at the muzzle of the gun and did not explode is the failure of the great German army on the western front and the great powder bed of the gun that was filled with powder is the treasures of the German Empire which is now about to collapse and the great black smoke that I saw is the great German army gathering on the western front which in time will be destroyed. I believe this vision is true.

LAI D OUT GERMAN
OFFICER WITH FIST
(By the Associated Press)

Paris, Aug. 16.—Forced in close bayonet fighting to use the butt of his gun across the head of a boche to lay him low, Terry Murphy, the Pittsburgh lightweight, unable to recover his gun rapidly enough next swung with his right fist upon a German lieutenant who was ready to draw upon him and knocked the Hun into unconsciousness. It was Terry's first knockout in France.
Terry's unit was brigaded with the French in the sector about Chateau Thierry. He was one of hundreds of volunteers from his regiment to seek duty in the front line.

It was the intention at first to have the volunteers proceed brigaded with a French battalion. They were given their proper formation and told to advance with the French, only to a certain point, the idea being to familiarize them with actual fire. Further advance was to be made by the pollus leaving the American volunteers behind. At the point they were to stop, they were overcome with eagerness, went right along with the pollus and made a creditable showing.

RULING ON SECOND
CLASS REGISTRANTS

Oklahoma City, Aug. 16.—The mere fact that the wife of a registrant without children is working and earning a salary does not necessarily mean that her husband should be placed in Class I-A, according to important instructions governing the classification of married men, which were sent out this morning to all local boards by Adjutant General E. H. Gipson.

Unless the registrant, who is the husband of a wife that is working, has means independent of his labor out of which to support his wife, he should remain in a deferred class according to General Gipson's interpretation of the selective service regulations.
In many cases it has come to the attention of the adjutant general's office, that councils of defense and others have attempted in a measure to usurp the duties of local draft boards by saying certain men ought to be called into the service because their wives are working, or because their wives are able to earn their own living.

At the conference of adjutants general in Washington some time ago General Gipson, along with prominent draft officials from other states urged amendments to the regulations, which would automatically bring all married men without children and whose wives are physically and mentally able to earn their own living, into class one, but this did not meet the approval of the Washington draft executives.

Later when class one men were almost exhausted General Gipson urged that men of this status be put in I-A, but Washington officials stuck to the regulations giving such men a berth in the second class.

Australia Shipping Rabbits.

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 16.—Rabbits which were once the curse of Australia, as they have been to a lesser extent in the southwestern United States, now are providing a profitable source of revenue and at the same time are helping to win the war by increasing food supply.

Official dispatches received here say the British Board of Trade has ordered 600,000 crates of skinned rabbits, which will require the killing of 21,600,000 rabbits weighing 36,000,000 pounds after dressing. Previously the rabbits were shipped with the skins on, but inconvenience was experienced at hospitals in England in removing the fur.

How to dispose of the skins is causing the Australians speculation. There is a ready market for them in this country, but tonnage is scarce.

QUALIFYING
By KATHLEEN M. MOORE.

Genville was only a small town. The male population was in the minority, but the town boasted of a six-star service flag.

A few of the girls had organized a benefit club.
"We'll call it the S. S. S. club," suggested Vera Quinn, "and no one but a soldier or sailor's sweetheart will be eligible."

"Fine!" exclaimed Gladys. "Then Babs won't be eligible, because she hasn't any sweetheart."

The aforementioned Babs heard of the plans and applied for membership on the ground that she had two brothers and four cousins in the service—all volunteers.

"But you must have a sweetheart in order to qualify," informed Vera. "We are sorry, but you can't join."

"Oh, very well, miss," she replied tartly. "I'll qualify before another month is up or my name isn't Barbara Helena Willows."

"And to think Babs will find a Sammy sweetheart in Genville before a month," laughed Ruth, another of the members.

"Girls," called Vera, "we'll put it this way: If Barbara Willows gets a sweetheart in the service inside of one month we'll have to admit her to our club; if not, she can't have another chance."

Arriving at this agreement, the club adjourned.

Two days passed, and soon they grew into weeks. Babs was seen in the park frequently with Ted Barlowe, the duke of the town.

The club met for its regular weekly meeting, and since Babs had another week in which to qualify, the whole evening was spent in discussing her progress.

Tuesday night came and the girls had assembled early and were awaiting Barbara anxiously.

"Has anyone seen Barbara since our last meeting?" asked the president. There came a chorus of noes.

The discussion drifted to a new family that had moved to Genville a few days ago. Fifteen minutes had elapsed, but no Barbara—then there came a long peal from the doorbell.

"There she is now," they all cried, as Ruth hastened to open the door.

Babs entered looking very charming, and, smiling prettily, she said: "Well, girls, I have won without trying, and now may I be a member of your select club?"

"First give us evidence of your qualifications," demanded Vera, growing uneasy.

"Yes, produce evidence," cried the others.

"Very well," replied Babs, in a matter-of-fact tone of voice. "My work this month has not been in vain," she began. "I not only made myself eligible to the club, but I helped increase the ranks of Uncle Sam by three. Evidence?" and here she opened the door and admitted two khaki-clad and one sailor-clad boy.

The girls gasped in surprise, as they beheld Art Gordon and Bill Stratton in khaki and Ted Barlowe in a hatty blue sailor suit.

"Here's my evidence," Babs continued, taking note of the surprised looks on the girls' faces.

When Vera had regained her composure she said somewhat peremptorily: "But which is your sweetheart? They can't all be."

"But we'd like to," piped the boys cheerily.

"None of them," and Babs laughed mischievously.

"None of them!" echoed the girls.

"Then I fall to see where you have qualified," Vera said hastily.

"But, Miss President," don't jump at conclusions," Barbara responded. "I haven't finished yet. Here is my sweetheart, and here is proof that he is my sweetheart," and she held up her left hand, displaying a dazzling solitaire. At the same time a stalwart young man, dressed in khaki, made his appearance, smiling.

"Allow me to introduce Sergt. Albert Phillips, a new resident of the town of Genville," said Babs. "Sergeant Phillips and I have been good friends for a long time. I met him through my brother when he was at camp," in answer to their questioning glances. "Being home on furlough because of injuries sustained in action, he paid me a surprise visit. Ted, Bill and Art having listened to my preaching for a month or more, enlisted for Uncle Sam and elected me, as their godmother. Now have I qualified?"

The girls cast envious glances toward Babs and her young army. After a brief silence Vera said: "We certainly take off our hats to you, Barbara. You have overqualified. We admit you for a full-fledged member."

Barbara smiled upon her army, which stood erect behind her and said: "Well, boys, I have come out victorious. Just like you boys are going to do some day," and turning to her club sisters she said: "We'll leave Genville tomorrow. The boys for their different stations and I for a farm where I am engaged to work all summer."

The girls expressed their regret at this news, but congratulated Barbara on her patriotic spirit.

"I move we enroll Babs as an honorary member of the S. S. S. club," spoke up Ruth.

The motion was carried unanimously, and patriotic Barbara and her four friends received a hearty send-off by the club, and the town of Genville proudly added four more stars to its service flag.

TULSA PREPARING FOR
CONFEDERATE REUNION

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 16.—The Tulsa Confederate reunion committee, composed of many of the leading citizens of Tulsa, have been engaged for some weeks raising a fund of $100,000, and perfecting an organization for the entertainment of the 28th annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans' Association, the Confederate Southern Memorial Association and the 23rd reunion of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, Sept. 24-27 inclusive.

The committee is assured of the necessary financial support, so that no fears need be entertained on that score. It is confidently believed that 100,000 delegates and visitors will attend this reunion, and that it will be one of the best reunions ever held.

Arrangements have been made to care, free of charge, for from 5,000 to 10,000 veterans. They will be provided sleeping quarters in the new, airy, spacious public school buildings of Tulsa. These buildings are of brick, one story in height and have ample toilet facilities. Free street car tickets will be supplied to all Confederate Veterans. Ample bedding has already arrived in Tulsa. It is all new, having been purchased at the factory for this occasion. These guests will be served three meals a day at a large mess hall, and E. A. Pickens, who has catered successfully to so many reunions in the past, is in Tulsa waiting for his old friends to come. He will cater to all their needs.

Ample provision will be made for the annual reunion balls. Special effort will be put forth by the society element in Tulsa to make the many social features of the reunion doubly attractive.

President Wilson has approved of the holding of this reunion as an example of patriotism while the nation is at war. Director-General McAdoo promises the committee ample railway facilities, and has authorized a rate of one cent a mile each way to Confederate Veterans, Sons of Confederate Veterans, and their families. The Tulsa reunion, therefore, is an assured success, and it is the earnest desire of the reunion committee that a record breaking attendance shall be certain in advance. Please hand this information around to all your friends and the local press.

SONS OF VETERANS
WILL BE REPRESENTED

The meeting of Confederate Sons Thursday evening was very poorly attended, but it was resolved to go ahead with preparations for the Tulsa reunion. Only veterans, their families and the Sons and Daughters organizations will be recognized in selling tickets at the reduced rate and in order to take advantage of this rate it will be necessary to secure certificates from the officers of these organizations. The meeting directed the adjutant to order a supply of blanks to be used for those entitled to them. In the meantime the Sons will collect fifty cents annual dues from as many as possible entitled to membership to meet the dues to the general organization and other necessary expenses. Any one desiring to enroll should see J. W. Dean or J. W. Westbrook. Delegates will be selected when it is ascertained how many this camp will be entitled to. Representation is based on the paid up membership.

The United States adopted standard time in 1883, on the initiative of the American Railway Association, and at noon of November 18 of that year and telegraphic signals sent out daily from the naval observatory at Washington were changed to the new system. There was no other change in time until the daylight saving went into effect this year, when the time was advanced one hour all over the country.

A HUGO BONHEIMER

ON FOODLESS DAY.

"They think," said the Tiger, "that they have started a new fashion."
"What is a fashion?" roared Mr. Lion.

"Pooh," said Mrs. Lioness, "I know what a fashion is. All ladies and lionesses and small girls know about fashions."

"What is there to know about them?" asked Mr. Lion.

"Fashions," said Mrs. Lioness, "are fads."

"I know no more now than I did before," said Mr. Lion.

"Too bad," said Mrs. Lioness. "I'll try again to explain to you the meaning of fashions. Well, fashions are passing fancies."

"I'm still more at sea," said Mr. Lion.

"At sea! At sea!" exclaimed Mrs. Lioness. "Why you aren't at sea; you're in the zoo. You're not even in the jungle. Oh, dear, oh, dear, has the summer heat been too much for you? You must rest. You must have something cool for your head."

"Ha, ha!" roared the lion. "Ha, ha, ha, ha!" And he roared as hard as he could, while he grinned, a wonderful and very wide grin.

"Whatever is the matter?" asked Mrs. Lioness.

"Just this," said Mr. Lion. "You were trying to act as if you knew so much and you tried to mix me all up. So I tried the same thing on you. You tell me what fashions are and I will tell you what I meant when I said I was at sea. I can assure you I didn't for a moment think I was at sea, or in the sea, or that the sea was anywhere around me."

"What did you mean?" asked Mrs. Lioness. "Pray tell me first. Ladies should always be helped first, spoken to first, etc., etc."

"Oh, very well," said Mr. Lion. Well, when I said that I was at sea I meant that I was mixed up. I used that as an expression or saying, as people do when they mean they're very much confused. It just means they're at sea in their minds."

"Does it mean that their heads are covered with water?" asked Mrs. Lioness.

"No," said Mr. Lion. "It means that their thoughts are all mixed up and just as though they were lost at sea and didn't know where they were going—their thoughts don't know where they're going—that's what it means."

"Oh," said Mrs. Lioness, "I understand, but it is a silly expression. Now I will tell you what fashions are. Fashions are styles and they only remain fashions as long as the styles are fashionable."

Mr. Lion said this over to himself a number of times quite slowly. "I understand now," he said at last.

"It's my turn to speak," said the Tiger.

"Speak all you wish," the other animals said.

"Well," said the Tiger, "they've been having for a long time all sorts of days."

"News! News! Extra! Extra!" called Mr. Lion. "They've been having all sorts of days he tells us, and all sorts of nights, too, you might add. Some are rainy, some snowy, some warm, some cold. My, but you are bright, Mr. Tiger."

"Patience," said the Tiger.

"What have days to do with fashions and a new one which you spoke of?" asked Mrs. Lioness.

"They have this to do with it," said Mr. Tiger, "and I will explain myself if only you will give me time."

"Go ahead," said Mr. Lion.

"Well," said Mr. Tiger, "they have been trying to save food and not waste it. They've been trying to have good sense and not throw anything away, and also they've tried to make use of everything, and so they could do all this they have had wheatless days, meatless days, porkless days and goodness knows what else. They think it's a perfectly good idea of their own and that no one ever had it before."

"It's a good idea, to be sure, but it's not a new idea or a new fashion, for in the zoo for as long as I can remember all the big wild animals like ourselves, yourselves, the leopards and others have had one foodless day a week—one day with no food at all, so we wouldn't be too wild eating such a lot of meat. Ah, the zoo is really ahead of the times," he ended proudly.

In several European countries, notably Sweden and Germany, the scarcity of cattle fodder has led to experiments with various substitutes for the usual feed given to cattle. It has been found that dried wood pulp provides a good cattle fodder when mixed with molasses and albuminous substances. In Germany straw fodder is being manufactured on a large scale; while in Sweden reindeer moss and Iceland moss are extensively used as fodder. Horses are said to thrive very well on the diet of rusheas—Popular Science Monthly.

OF THE EVENING NEWS

Every one who has a news item of importance is invited to telephone it to The News from day to day. Owing to the shortage of labor and the high price of running a newspaper, it is impossible now to maintain a reporting force large enough to see every one every day. You can go to the telephone and give us a news item in a few minutes and in this way let your friends know where you are. They will appreciate the courtesy. Oftentimes you will have friends visiting you. The people of Ada want to know about this, and we sincerely ask you to let the News tell them about this friend. It is a courtesy you owe your guest to have his or her name appear in the news items of your local paper. Some one will be in the office all the time to look after these items.

SPRING HUN'S SLEEP WELL TELEPHONE

Desultory Bombing Distracts Antiaircraft Gunners.

Drop Two and Flit Away: When Fritz Settles Down, Wake Him Up Again.

Behind the British Lines in France. One of the most exciting tasks to which airmen are assigned is "desultory bombing" over one spot for an hour or more. The object is to distract the attention of the antiaircraft defenders of a given district.

A machine carrying a dozen or more bombs is employed for the work. The airman, a pilot and an observer approach their target cautiously. With engines throttled down, the craft glides nearer and nearer.

Below all is quiet. No German searchlights are sweeping the sky. When the attackers are almost over their object a rocket rises and bursts into a cluster of red stars.

The machine has been discovered. At once six or seven searchlights throw their beams aloft. The pilot looks at his watch; it is time to begin bombing.

He flies steadily on, although a barrage of bursting shells lies now in front of him. The observer looks through the wires of his bomb sight. He thrusts his lever forward and releases two bombs. A few seconds later he sees the flash of their explosions, and hears two dull roars. He signals to the pilot and the machine sweeps away from the fiery ring of shells and searchlights.

A few miles away the airplane flies to and fro at top speed. The puzzled searchlights vainly feel the sky in all directions and then, one by one, are switched off.

Then the pilot quickly returns toward the target. Another bomb is dropped. As it explodes the searchlights reappear and the barrage is renewed, while through the shell bursts are threaded the chains of green flaming globes so much used by the Germans.

Again the machine flies away and this time to bewilder the soldiers below, the observer fires a white Verney light, which slowly drifts down and fades out. All the searchlights follow it until it dies.

Repeatedly the airmen return to the attack. Bombs are dropped at intervals until the end of the hour, when the machine departs, flickering fires and clouds of smoke telling of the havoc wrought by the bombs.

"YANKS HAVE NO BRAINS; WON'T QUIT," SAYS HUN
New Castle, Pa.—"The American soldiers have no brains because they don't know when to quit." That was the observation made to Capt. H. C. Harper of this city, a member of Pershing's army of more than a million, by a German prisoner.

"The Hun told me," he writes, "that France is fighting for her existence, England for her honor, but that America wants nothing only to kill Germans."

FRENCH LAUNDRIES ARE FINE

American Soldier Says the Only Trouble is Getting Your Own Clothes Back.

New York.—"French village laundries are wonderful places to the American soldiers," writes R. J. Kirk, a former Pacific Coast newspaper man now doing duty over there, to an old-time friend here.

"In fact, every French hamlet has a municipal washhouse," he continues. "It is generally a stone shed built over a running stream. Here the old French widows wash the American soldiers' clothes. Soldiers are supposed to wash their own clothes, but not many of them do it unless it is a long way from payday, or else they're leaving most of their franks with the paymaster in the shape of Liberty Bonds, wives' allotments or similar payments."

"So most of the 'holdats Americaines' let the old French women do their laundry. They do it good enough and cheap enough, but getting back what the soldier sent there to have washed is another problem. The old ladies take the socks, olive drab shirts and underwear of half a company; soak them all together in a creek, drag them out, hit them with a paddle on the wooden horses, then pile them and tell the soldiers to come and get them. 'Voila, Messieurs' (There they are, gentlemen)."

"The first man to arrive gets a full wardrobe. In fact, if he happens to be a bit unscrupulous he's likely to get enough duds to last him over the winter. The last man need not go at all; he'll have only his bill to pay."

Yanks Studying French.
Chicago.—Fifty thousand soldiers in the cantonments in America do not propose to arrive in France unable to converse with the fair French damsel. At least that is the estimate given by Y. M. C. A. officials of attendants at French classes in the camps.

Steam Destroyer Sighted.

EMPLOYE SPEAKS

"I've Gained Five Pounds on Tanlac and All My Troubles Are Gone."

"I've gained five pounds on Tanlac and all my troubles are gone," said Miss Mavis Ellis, a valued employee of the S. W. Bell Telephone Company, who resides at 608 Belknap street, Fort Worth, Texas.

"My health began to fail several months ago," she continued, "and before long I was in such a condition from indigestion and sick headaches that I hardly knew what to do. My appetite failed and it was an effort for me to eat even enough to keep me alive. Food didn't seem to give me proper nourishment and I grew so weak and rundown that I feared I couldn't hold out much longer. At times my head would ache until it seemed like it would burst and the pain was almost unbearable. It was going down hill so rapidly that it was only by forcing myself that I could stay on at my work. Nothing gave me any relief, and as several of my friends had taken Tanlac and told me what it had done for them, I decided to try it.

"It would take a long time for me to tell just how grateful I do feel for what Tanlac has done for me. I began to feel better right from the start. My appetite has come back to me and I can eat just anything I want and never have any trouble, those terrible headaches have disappeared altogether. I haven't a pain in my body and am as full of energy as if I'd never been sick at all. My work is a pleasure to me now and I am glad to recommend Tanlac, for it alone is responsible for my great improvement."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Company, and by leading druggists and dealers everywhere.

FRENCH WOMEN IN INDUSTRIAL PURSUITS

Paris, Aug. 16.—Women employed in all branches of industry in France number 626,000, according to an official report. This compares with 487,000 employed in normal times. This increase is due almost entirely to the employment of women in metal industries, chiefly in munition works. The weight which women can be required to carry in factory work is limited by law to 55 pounds.

Women are widely employed for the inspection of finished goods, they examine separate parts for automobiles, verify light shells, fuses and grenade plugs. They inspect big shells externally and internally by the use of electric lamps and they test the caliber using complicated measuring apparatus and microscopes. They nail up cases of all kinds, even cases for airplanes and automobiles. The women supervise the buildings where men are at work and keep them clean.

IMPOVERISHED BLOOD

Here's Proof That Vinol Enriches the Blood.

Bradford, Pa.—"I have used Vinol for impoverished blood. I was broken out with a rash and rundown so it was hard for me to keep about my work. After trying Beef, Iron and Wine and other medicines without benefit Vinol enriched my blood and improved by condition very rapidly."

—Rose Lasky.
There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases of beef, and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

HOW AVIATORS BEGIN NIGHT SCOUTING

A British Aerodrome, Somewhere in France, Aug. 16.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—An hour before dusk, weather reports from all parts of France, as well as from London and the English coast, begin pouring into the office of the "Night Bombing Squadron." When machines are going on a long flight to bomb German towns, it is very desirable to know what weather may be expected.

By means of a little balloon whose speed and direction, as it soars upward, is registered by a special instrument, the direction and force of the wind at different levels is discovered. This information tells the airman what course he must steer and what allowances he must make for deflection and wind-drift.

The pilots and observers are called into the mapping office and the order for the night are read aloud by the commanding officer. Maps are collected, and photographs of the objective are examined, so that the airman may familiarize themselves with the surroundings as they appear from the air.

Then they hurry away to their rooms, and get ready for the long flight through the cold night skies.

Heavy sweaters are donned and soft leather thigh boots lined with white fleece are pulled on over thick woole stockings. Mufflers are wrapped round necks and mouths. The airman climb into over-all suits of waterproof material lined with long black fur. These are securely strapped at the ankles and wrists. Fur-lined leather helmets and goggles are put on, and yellow whale oil is smeared over the face to prevent frost bite. Then, gathering up their thick fur gloves, their torches and maps, their sandwiches and vacuum flasks, their note-books and pencils, the airman straddle awkwardly out to the aerodrome where the great machines stand silently in a dim line, ready to burst into life at the order to start.

The first of the big machines slowly taxis across the aerodrome, turns to face the wind, halts a little and then gathering momentum every second, it rushes across the grass and climbs up into the night till it can no longer be seen, and its two wing-tip lights, like nery eyes, alone show where it moves in the darkness. For several minutes its pulsing drone can be heard as it climbs in great circles over the aerodrome. Every eye is turned upwards watching the little lights. Suddenly a ball of red appears in the sky, drops slowly, and dies out. It is a signal describing the weather conditions up aloft, and conveying an order to those on the ground.

One by one the huge machines glide out into the middle of the field, thunder across the grass, and rise, soaring to the stars. For a time, their murmur-fills the skies, but soon a heavy silence descends on the aerodrome, while in the East beyond the German lines, can be seen the pale fingers of the groping searchlights.

ATTENDING TO CHICKENS AND GARDEN

"My neighbors are surprised to see me looking so well, for they thought I would not live to see summer. I had such pain around my heart as to cause me to faint. I knew it came from bloating and pressure of gas in my stomach. A friend in St. Louis told me to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I now feel better than in all my life. I am doing my own work, attending to my chickens and my garden and have cleaned house." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

LLOYD-GEORGE SAYS NEW DAY COMING

London, Aug. 16.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—"There is a new land confronting us," said Premier Lloyd George in a recent speech. "What manner of country it will be," he continued, "will depend on how the war goes and on how things go after the war."

"I am more confident today than I have ever been, and for reasons it would not be relevant for me to enter on at the moment; but one of the latest reasons is the impression made on me by the American troops I saw in France. They are superb in material and in training, and in the way they have borne themselves in the trying conditions of battles they have fought. I found a great spirit of confidence which strengthens our convictions of victory."

"The war has upset everything and when it is over the falling bak into normal conditions will be another disturbance. There will be a great social and economic disturbance."

"There are two alternatives. One is that the war will have sobered the millions who have passed through the fires, whether in France or in the anxieties at home. Their vision will have been broadened, their sympathy deepened, their outlook and purpose made clearer, firmer and more exalted. There are millions who have been in daily contact with death, walking hourly over its trap doors. They have come into contact with very terrible realities. That is one view."

"The other is that there are millions who for these years have endured privations, discomfort, wretchedness, as well as pain and terror, and who have made up their minds to have a good time for the rest of their lives when it is over. That is a very dangerous frame of mind for a nation to be in."

SURGEONS agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the FIRST TREATMENT is most important. When an EFFICIENT antiseptic is applied promptly, there is no danger of infection and the wound begins to heal at once. For use on man or beast, BOROZONE is the IDEAL ANTISEPTIC and HEALING AGENT. Buy it now and be ready for an emergency. Price 25c, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Sold by Bart Smith.

ITALIAN TROOPS KEEP BUSY IN MOUNTAINS.
Rome, August 15.—Italian forces have occupied Monte Mantello, Punta Di Matteo and the spur southeast of Cima Zigolon, north of the Adamello region, according to an official statement issued by the war department office. They have taken 100 prisoners.

Say, what is my old lady doing? Write and tell me all about everything. Tell all the folks hello for me.
What is Homer T. Carney doing? Tell him to write to me. I wrote him two letters while I was at Camp Mills.
Well, as I can't think of nothing else to write will close. Answer soon.
Your son,
DAN C. ROGERS.

KING OF THE BELGIANS

This unusual photo is probably the most characteristic ever made of the hard-working king of the Belgians. He is busily engaged on some important piece of business in the simple little room that is his headquarters not far from the front lines.

W. H. MURRAY ISSUES FAREWELL STATEMENT

Tishomingo, Okla., Aug. 15, 1918.

To the People of Oklahoma:
According to the returns of the Election Boards, I have been defeated for Governor. I am deeply grateful to all my friends who have followed me during my public career. I am thankful to those who recently voted against me for relief from four years of political turmoil and servitude which the office entails. The loss is not mine.

The information which my candidacy enabled me to give the people why we are in war and must win it, reasons for a future wise foreign policy, and a broader conception of the evil tendencies of the times and how to forestall them, constitute sufficient compensation for my loss of time and money though permanently retired from political strife.

When I entered upon the canvass ninety days ago I did so with the promise to myself, openly expressed to my Committee of Friends, that "it is more important for me to preserve my self-respect and integrity than to win", and that I was determined to make a canvass free from bitterness and strife and to do or say nothing which might interfere with our war activities, in order to give a try-out to determine whether a man could be elected Governor possessing qualification and an honorable and efficient record, without heavy expenditure of money, against the wishes of the machine, fortified and hedged in through strength of position by the Primary Election machinery.

I realized then, as I do now, that my defeat twice in succession would permanently retire me as a candidate for public office. Now I also retire from political campaigns for any purpose unless future conditions become so changed that my activity for a good cause would redound to the best interest of the state. Surely now neither friend nor foe would expect me further to sacrifice time, energy or money in vain effort so thoroughly proven by the two recent campaigns. If there existed no logical reason for my election to Congress in 1916 or to the office of Governor in 1918, comparing qualification and record, there never will arise such logical reason. I retire to rebuild my shattered fortune, broken in twelve years service of my adopted state.

I have fought a good fight for principles and policies to which I have steadfastly adhered; I have kept the faith of an honorable career; as I have finished my course in such a field of endeavor after a sacrifice of time, money, and pleasure for a period of thirty-four years to qualify myself for such career according to my standard of such qualification. If I have misjudged the proper qualifications to be fitness and efficiency, courage and integrity, when for success I should have studied the arts of blandishment, congeniality, and playing the part of a "Roman when in Rome," or appearing "to be all things to all men," it has grown out of my conception of high standard to be set for youths' ambition of the future, as well as for maximum public service. That I find such a course impractical and unsuccessful in modern politics does not change my conception of such standard, as I am now sure that my campaign analysis of our civilization to be sound and accurate.

I repeat again—the loss is not mine. For my friends I shall ever cherish a deep and lasting gratitude which I fear I can never repay. For my adopted state I hold sincere and lasting concern; and to all expressions of good luck and best wishes as I bid them goodbye.
Believe me, ever,
Sincerely yours,
Wm. H. MURRAY.

Safety Matches Cause of Disease.
"Four writers in turn," says the Ugeskrift for Laeger, Copenhagen, "describe cases of eczema which they were unable to explain in the otherwise healthy patients until they learned of Rasch's experience with local poisoning of the skin from the use of a certain brand of safety matches. In most of the patients the burn was on the thighs corresponding to the trousers pockets in which they carried the match boxes."

Puzzling.
"Pa," said the young hopeless, "I can't understand you growed parents a tall. You and mother always tell me you ain't got no money whenever I want to buy candy or ice cream dainties, but I take notice you don't seem to have much trouble digging up a nickel for me to take to Sunday school."—Indianapolis Star.

Good Explanation.
Bob is attending the kindergarten. One of the children asked why it was that men take their hats off and women leave theirs on. The teacher explained that it was a custom, but that didn't seem to satisfy Bob, who said: "I know; because men are nice, but girls are nicer."

Alphabetical Possibilities.
All the inhabitants of the globe, on a rough calculation, could not in 1,000,000,000 years write out all the possible transpositions of the 26 letters of the alphabet, even supposing that each person wrote 40 pages daily, and each of which pages contained not less than 40 transpositions of the letters.

Electricity.
New York is estimated to have 2,500 commercial electric vehicles, Chicago 1,050, and Philadelphia 150.

Hypodermic needles were formerly made of platinum or platinum-iridium, two metals now practically unavailable. The increased war demand for these needles led to many experiments with other metals and alloys in the hope of finding a good substitute. A manufacturing concern has recently perfected a hypodermic needle of specially tempered 14-carat gold.
